

New principals bring expertise in historic preservation, justice projects

Contact Andrea Albright, aalbright@treanorarchitects.com or 785.842.4858

January 5, 2010

LAWRENCE, KS – Treanor Architects, P.A., is pleased to announce the appointment of Joy Coleman and Jay Zimmerschied to its team of principals. The two joined Treanor’s leadership team effective January 1.

Coleman has played an integral role in the preservation and restoration of the Kansas Statehouse, the renovation of the Truman Memorial Building in Independence, Mo., and the restoration and renovation of Topeka’s Great Overland Station. Coleman has practiced at Treanor since 1999. She is a 1996 graduate of the University of Kansas School of Architecture, Design & Planning.

Zimmerschied specializes in adult and juvenile detention centers and public safety facilities. He led Treanor’s efforts on the Shawnee County Work Release Center and is currently working with Johnson County on its Youth & Family Services Center. Zimmerschied joined Treanor’s justice team in January 2007. He is a 1991 graduate of the University of Kansas School of Architecture, Design & Planning.

“Joy and Jay both bring expertise to their respective fields and will provide additional guidance as our firm expands and grows,” said Treanor President Daniel Rowe. “Treanor is fortunate to have such an experienced team of leaders.”

Established in 1981, Treanor Architects currently employs 100 professionals and support staff in Lawrence and Topeka, Kan., and Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo. Treanor provides a full scope of architectural services for laboratory, educational and research facilities; justice centers; student life facilities; and historic preservation projects across the country and abroad.

Additional information about Treanor Architects is online at www.treanorarchitects.com.

#####